Simple Interest Method

Interest on this account is calculated using the simple interest method. Interest accrues daily on the unpaid principal balance at a daily rate equal to the annual percentage rate divided by 365. The amount of each payment applied to interest depends on the number of days since your last payment.

How Payments Are Applied

Each scheduled payment is applied first to accrued and unpaid interest, then to the unpaid principal balance, and then to any fees or other charges owed. Paying earlier in the cycle reduces the interest that accrues before your payment posts.

Effect of Extra Payments

You may pay more than the scheduled amount at any time. Additional amounts are applied to reduce principal, which lowers the total interest you pay over the life of the loan and reduces the number of remaining payments; your scheduled payment and due date do not change.

Payoff Amount

A payoff quotation is the total required to satisfy the loan in full and is valid only through the good-through date shown. Because interest accrues daily, a payoff received after that date requires additional per diem interest. Contact the servicer for an updated quote.

Prepayment

You may prepay all or part of the outstanding principal at any time without a prepayment penalty. Partial prepayments do not change your scheduled monthly payment or due date but reduce the remaining term and total interest.

Security Interest

This loan is secured by the vehicle described on this statement. The lienholder is recorded on the certificate of title, and the security interest is released after the loan is paid in full and the lien release is processed with the titling authority.

Insurance Requirement

You are required to maintain physical damage insurance, including comprehensive and collision coverage, on the financed vehicle and to name the lienholder as loss payee for the duration of the contract. Lapse of required insurance is a default under the contract.

Late Charges

If a scheduled payment is not received within the grace period stated in your contract, a late charge may be assessed in the amount permitted by your contract and applicable state law. Repeated late payments may affect your credit report.

Default and Remedies

Events of default include failure to pay as agreed, failure to maintain required insurance, and other breaches described in your contract. Upon default, the servicer may exercise the remedies permitted by the contract and applicable law, including repossession of the collateral.

Application of Insurance Proceeds

In the event of a total loss, insurance proceeds are applied to the outstanding balance. Any gap between the insurance settlement and the payoff amount remains your responsibility unless separate gap coverage applies.

Credit Reporting

We report the status of your account to consumer reporting agencies. Late payments, charge-offs, and other negative information may adversely affect your credit report and credit score.

Automatic Payments

If you are enrolled in automatic payments, your scheduled payment is drafted from your designated account on the due date. You may cancel automatic payments by notifying the servicer sufficiently in advance of the next scheduled draft.

Payoff and Title Release

When the loan is paid in full, we release our security interest and provide the lien release or title as required in your state. Please allow processing time for the release to be recorded with the titling authority.

Payment Methods and Posting

Payments may be made by the methods described on this statement. Payments received after the daily cutoff or on a non-business day are credited as of the next business day, which affects the interest calculation.

Right to Prepayment Rebate

Because interest is charged on the simple interest method rather than precomputed, there is no unearned interest rebate; you pay interest only for the time you actually have the outstanding balance.

Change of Address

Notify the servicer promptly of any change to your mailing address, email, or telephone number so that you continue to receive statements, payoff quotations, and important notices.

Servicing Transfer

We may transfer the servicing of your loan to another servicer. If servicing is transferred, you will be notified where to send payments, and no late fee may be charged for a payment sent to the prior servicer during the transition period as provided by law.

Account Inquiries

Direct questions about your loan, including requests for a payoff quotation or your amortization schedule, to the servicer using the contact information shown on this statement.

Retail Installment Contract — Terms

Your loan is governed by the retail installment sale contract you signed, which sets out the amount financed, the finance charge, the annual percentage rate, the total of payments, and the payment schedule.

Promise to Pay

You promise to pay the amount financed plus finance charges according to the payment schedule. If more than one person signs the contract, each is individually and jointly responsible for the entire amount owed.

Itemization of Amount Financed

The amount financed is the amount of credit provided to you and includes the cash price of the vehicle less your down payment, plus any amounts paid to others on your behalf, such as taxes, fees, and optional products you selected.

Grace Period and Late Charge

A late charge may be assessed if a payment is not received within the number of days stated in your contract after the due date. The late charge is the amount permitted by your contract and applicable state law.

Application of Payments and Interest Accrual

Because interest accrues daily on the outstanding principal, the amount of your payment applied to interest depends on when you pay. Paying before the due date reduces the interest portion and increases the principal reduction.

Prepayment in Full

You may pay the full outstanding balance at any time. Contact the servicer for a payoff quotation valid through a stated date. The payoff includes unpaid principal plus interest accrued to the payoff date and any authorized fees.

Partial Prepayment

You may make additional principal payments at any time without penalty. Unless you request otherwise, extra amounts are applied to principal, reducing total interest and the number of remaining payments while your monthly amount stays the same.

Security Interest and Title

You grant the creditor a security interest in the vehicle to secure payment. The creditor's lien is noted on the certificate of title and is released when the balance is paid in full and the lien release is processed.

Required Physical Damage Insurance

You must keep comprehensive and collision insurance on the vehicle, naming the lienholder as loss payee, until the loan is paid. If you fail to maintain required insurance, the creditor may, but is not required to, obtain it and add the cost to your balance.

Total Loss and Gap

If the vehicle is a total loss, insurance proceeds are applied to the balance. You remain responsible for any difference between the settlement and the payoff unless you purchased and are covered by a gap waiver or gap insurance.

Default

You are in default if you fail to pay as agreed, fail to keep required insurance, provide false information, or otherwise breach the contract. State law and your contract govern any right to cure a default before further action is taken.

Remedies on Default

On default, subject to applicable law and any required notice and right to cure, the creditor may demand the full balance, and may take back (repossess) the vehicle using lawful means that do not breach the peace.

Repossession and Reinstatement

If the vehicle is repossessed, you may have the right to redeem it by paying the amount required or, where allowed, to reinstate the contract by curing the default and paying related expenses, as provided by law.

Sale of Collateral and Deficiency

If the vehicle is sold after repossession, the proceeds, less allowed expenses, are applied to your balance. You remain responsible for any deficiency, and you are entitled to any surplus, as provided by law.

Warranties

Any warranty on the vehicle is provided by the manufacturer or dealer, not by the creditor. The creditor makes no warranty regarding the vehicle unless required by law, and financing the vehicle does not create such a warranty.

Servicing Transfer Notice

The servicing of your loan may be transferred. If it is, you will receive notice identifying the new servicer and where to send payments, and payments sent to the prior servicer during the transition will not be treated as late as provided by law.

Credit Reporting

We furnish information about your account to consumer reporting agencies. Late payments, repossession, and other negative information may be reported and may remain on your credit report for the period allowed by law.

Arbitration and Waiver

Your contract may include an arbitration provision under which either party may elect to resolve a dispute by individual arbitration. Review your contract for the terms of any such provision and any right to reject it.

Contact for Servicing Requests

For payoff quotations, amortization schedules, insurance updates, or questions about how a payment was applied, contact the servicer using the information shown on this statement.

Billing Statement Purpose

This statement summarizes activity on your installment loan for the period shown, including the payment received, its application to interest and principal, your new balance, and the amount and date of your next payment.

Payment Coupon and Remittance

If you pay by mail, include your account number on your payment and send it to the remittance address shown so that it is credited promptly. Do not send cash. Electronic payment options are available and generally post faster.

Partial Payments

We may accept a partial payment without waiving our right to receive the full scheduled payment. A partial payment may not prevent your account from becoming past due or a late charge from being assessed.

Payoff Statement Requests

You may request a written payoff statement at any time. The payoff figure is calculated as of a specific date because interest accrues daily; a payoff received after that date requires additional per diem interest.

Application of Insurance and Refunds

Any refund of a canceled optional product, or any insurance proceeds not used to repair the vehicle, may be applied to your loan balance in the manner permitted by your contract and applicable law.

Escrow Not Applicable

This installment loan does not include an escrow account for taxes or insurance. You are responsible for paying vehicle taxes, registration, and insurance premiums directly to the applicable parties.

Disputed Amounts

If you believe an amount on this statement is incorrect, contact the servicer promptly. Continuing to make scheduled payments while a dispute is researched helps you avoid late charges and negative credit reporting.

Successor in Interest

If ownership of the account or the collateral changes by operation of law, the servicer may require documentation before recognizing a successor in interest and providing account information.

Electronic Statements

If you have enrolled in electronic delivery, your statement is available through the servicer's website or app. You may change your delivery preference or request a paper copy at any time.

Contact and Hours

Customer service representatives are available during the hours posted by the servicer. Automated account information, including your balance and payoff, is available at any time through the servicer's telephone and online systems.

Privacy Notice

We collect nonpublic personal information about you to open and service your account, such as information from your application and your transactions. We do not sell your information and share it only as permitted by law and as described in our privacy policy, a copy of which is available on request.

Information Safeguards

We maintain physical, electronic, and procedural safeguards designed to protect your nonpublic personal information. Access is limited to personnel who need it to provide products and services to you.

Electronic Delivery Consent

If you have consented to electronic delivery, statements, notices, and disclosures are provided electronically. You may withdraw consent and receive paper documents at any time by contacting us using the information on this statement.

Electronic Signatures and Records

You agree that electronic records and signatures have the same legal effect as paper documents and handwritten signatures with respect to your account and any related agreements.

OFAC and Sanctions Screening

Transactions are screened against sanctions lists maintained by the U.S. Office of Foreign Assets Control. Activity involving sanctioned parties or jurisdictions may be delayed, blocked, or rejected as required by law.

Governing Law

Your account and the applicable agreement are governed by applicable federal law and, to the extent not preempted, the laws of the state identified in your agreement, without regard to conflict-of-laws principles.

Assignment

We may assign or transfer your account and our rights under the agreement to another party. Your obligations remain unchanged, and you will be notified of a servicing transfer as required by law.

Address of Record

Notices are sent to the address of record. Please keep it current. Notices we send to the address of record are effective when sent, whether or not you actually receive them.

Change of Contact Information

Keep your telephone number and email address current so we can send you important notices and reach you promptly about possible fraud or servicing matters.

Unclaimed Property (Escheatment)

If we are unable to locate you and your account shows no owner-generated activity for the dormancy period set by state law, the balance may be reported and remitted to the state as unclaimed property.

Rounding Convention

Figures on this document are rounded to the nearest cent for display. Minor differences may appear between a total and the sum of the individual rounded amounts shown.

Not a Tax Document

This statement is provided for your records and is not an official tax document. Amounts reported to taxing authorities are furnished on the applicable year-end tax forms, which you should use to prepare your return.

Consumer Report Disputes

If you believe information we furnished to a consumer reporting agency is inaccurate, you may notify us in writing. We will investigate and report the results as required by the Fair Credit Reporting Act.

Telephone Communications

To help ensure quality and for training and verification, telephone calls to and from us may be monitored or recorded to the extent permitted by applicable law.

Power of Attorney

If you wish another person to act on your account under a power of attorney, we may require review and acceptance of the document before acting, consistent with our policies and applicable law.
